

GCSE Food Preparation and Nutrition

New for Academic Year 2022/23

Tutors & Exams, the UK's leading Independent Assessment centre, and Worship Worth Experiences, based in Canwell, Sutton Coldfield, have collaborated to offer students the chance to complete a one-year GCSE Food Preparation and Nutrition Course.

By completing this course, you will develop practical cookery skills and techniques as you explore the underlying principles of food science, nutrition, food traditions and food safety. Successful completion will also result in GCSE certification (Spec J309) from the OCR Awarding Organisation.

What to expect:

- Students will need to complete a food investigation task, assessing the scientific principles underlying the preparation and cooking of food
- Students will need to complete a food preparation task which will assess the planning, preparation, cooking and presentation of food
- Finally, there will be a 1 hour 30 minute written examination paper to be taken at any one of the eight Tutors & Exams centres located in the UK

The programme will consist of 30, 1½ hour virtual sessions, this will be theory and practical and 4 practical face-to-face sessions to be hosted at 1 Weeford Park Cottages, London Road, Sutton Coldfield, B75 5ST.

You can view the amazing facilities that "Worship Worth Experiences" has to offer by visiting their website

The fee for the course, covering tutorials and practical sessions, is £485 and will be charged to you directly by Worship Worth Experiences. However, you will also need to pay an additional fee of £176 to sit your written GCSE paper with Tutors & Exams. This can be done by registering via their online application form here
