EXAMINATION FEES AND SUPPLEMENTARY SERVICE CHARGES 2026/27

Effective from 1 September 2026

WELCOME TO TUTORS & EXAMS

Thank you for considering Tutors & Exams as your examination centre.

We aim to make booking examinations as clear and straightforward as possible. Our pricing follows a transparent, one-cost approach to standard examination entries, so candidates can understand what they are paying from the outset. Our published standard entry fees do not include hidden registration fees or undisclosed compulsory add-ons. Where an optional service, late action, special arrangement or additional awarding-organisation charge may be payable, it is identified separately within this fee schedule or confirmed before the candidate commits to the service.

This fee schedule provides details of our examination-entry fees and additional service charges for the 2026/27 academic year. Please read it carefully alongside our Terms and Conditions before submitting a booking.

IMPORTANT FEE INFORMATION

The fees shown are subject to candidate eligibility, centre capacity, examination availability, applicable deadlines and the requirements of the relevant awarding organisation.
Unless expressly stated otherwise:

- Qualification fees are charged on the basis specified within each section—for example, per subject, unit or paper.
- Additional services and administration charges are payable separately from examination-entry fees.
- A qualification or specification appearing in this document is not guaranteed to be available at every centre or during every examination series.
- All bookings must be completed by the applicable deadline. Late-entry or high-late-entry charges may apply after the standard entry deadline.
- Learning Partner discounts apply only to eligible candidates using a valid discount code and do not apply to late-entry or high-late-entry charges.
- Candidates are responsible for checking that the qualification, awarding organisation, specification, tier, unit and examination series selected are correct before submitting their booking.

Some qualifications or services may require supporting evidence, an approved tutor or provider, Access Arrangements approval, practical or coursework components, technical checks, or confirmation from an awarding organisation.

The relevant awarding organisation determines matters including entry acceptance, Access Arrangements, special consideration, acceptance of late coursework or non-examined assessment, post-results outcomes and appeals. Payment of a fee does not guarantee approval or a particular outcome.

All bookings, amendments, cancellations and refunds are subject to the Tutors & Exams Terms and Conditions in force when the booking is accepted.

In the modular route, there are no restrictions on candidates taking units together; all units can be treated separately, and they can be taken in any International GCSE exam series (November and May/June).

You can learn and enter for your Modular International GCSE's when you're ready. Once you are close to completing the first part of your learning (the learning objectives required for the first unit/module) you should apply to Tutors & Exams for your exams. Once you enter for your last unit, you just need to make sure you apply to cash-in too. This brings all of your units together (including the best mark of any previously sat units) and gives you an overall grade.

KEY DEADLINES - 2026/27

UK, INTERNATIONAL AND REMOTE-INVIGILATION ENTRIES

Meeting the applicable entry deadline is essential.

Tutors & Exams deadlines may be earlier than the final deadlines published by an awarding organisation. This gives us sufficient time to check candidate information, review supporting evidence, resolve queries, process payment and submit complete and accurate entries before the awarding organisation's closing date. To qualify for the standard entry fee, a complete booking – including all required information, supporting evidence and payment – must be received by the applicable standard entry deadline.

Submitting an incomplete application before the deadline does not secure the standard entry fee.

UNDERSTANDING THE DEADLINES

Standard Entry Deadline | The final date by which a complete booking must be received to qualify for the standard entry fee.
Late Fees From | Bookings completed on or after this date will be charged at the applicable late-entry rate.
High-Late Fees From | Bookings completed on or after this date will be charged at the applicable high-late-entry rate.
Entries Closed | No further applications will normally be accepted after this date.

Late and high-late applications are not guaranteed to be accepted. Acceptance remains subject to candidate eligibility, centre capacity, examination availability and the relevant awarding organisation's requirements.

ACCESS ARRANGEMENTS

SUPPORTING A CANDIDATE'S NORMAL WAY OF WORKING

Access Arrangements support candidates who have a disability, learning difficulty, medical condition or other need that affects how they access an examination. They are intended to remove an unnecessary disadvantage without changing what is being assessed or giving the candidate an unfair advantage.

Where required by the applicable regulations, the requested arrangement must reflect the candidate's normal way of working. This means the support the candidate ordinarily and routinely uses while learning, working or completing assessments—not support introduced only for the examination. For example, if a candidate requests the use of a word processor, extra time, supervised rest breaks, a reader or a scribe, the evidence may need to show that this type of support is normally used and is appropriate to the candidate's needs.

Evidence of a diagnosis or medical condition may not, by itself, establish the candidate's normal way of working. Supporting information may also be required from a school, college, tutor, workplace, medical professional or another suitable person who understands how the candidate normally works. Private candidates who do not attend a school or college should contact the Access Arrangements Team as early as possible. The team will explain what evidence may be accepted to demonstrate the candidate's needs and normal way of working.

Every request is considered individually. The arrangement available will depend on the candidate's needs, the evidence provided, their normal way of working, the applicable regulations and what can reasonably be delivered at the chosen centre.

Candidates who may require Access Arrangements should contact the Tutors & Exams Access Arrangements Team well before the relevant evidence submission deadline. The dates below are deadlines for receiving all required evidence. They are not deadlines for making an initial enquiry or starting the process.

Submitting an enquiry or initial form without the required evidence does not meet the evidence submission deadline.

MOCK EXAMINATIONS

Preparing for an examination can feel daunting. A mock examination allows candidates to experience realistic examination conditions in a safe and controlled environment before sitting their formal assessments.

Mock examinations can help candidates:

- Become familiar with examination procedures and expected conduct.
- Understand the format and structure of an examination paper.
- Practise completing papers within the permitted time.
- Develop examination technique and time-management skills.
- Identify subjects or topics that may require further preparation.
- Build confidence by experiencing realistic examination conditions.

For candidates who experience examination-related anxiety, becoming familiar with the environment and procedures may help reduce uncertainty and provide a greater sense of preparedness. A mock examination cannot guarantee a particular result or future examination performance, but it can provide a valuable opportunity to practise and identify areas for improvement.

MOCK EXAMINATION APPLICATION DEADLINES

Series	Awarding Organisation	Qualification Type	Entry Deadline
Autumn 2026	All Boards	All Qualifications	31 August 2026
January 2027	All Boards	All Qualifications	22 Nov 2026
Summer 2027	All Boards	All Qualifications	7 Feb 2027

A complete booking form and all required information must be received by the applicable deadline. Submitting an incomplete application before the deadline does not secure a booking. Mock examination bookings remain subject to centre capacity, paper availability and confirmation by Tutors & Exams. Candidates should apply early and should not wait until the published deadline.

The application deadline is the final date for submitting a complete booking. The examination window is the period during which the mock examinations will take place; it is not an extension of the application deadline.

Candidates may book mock examinations even if they do not intend to sit their formal examinations with Tutors & Exams. The same application deadlines and examination windows apply.

Awarding organisations may update their timetables after initial publication. Candidates should ensure they are viewing the correct examination series, qualification and—where applicable—Cambridge International administrative zone. The awarding-organisation timetable should be used for general planning. A candidate's final examination date, start time and centre arrangements are those confirmed directly by Tutors & Exams.
